Town water supply is OK

Ontario Clean Water Agency, the company that manages the Minden Water Treatment Plant, sent a notice to the municipality reassuring council that all of the 200-plus water systems it manages across the province have tested clean in the most recent tests.

The notice was prompted by the contamination of the water system in Walkerton, resulting in at least five deaths and dozens of victims being hospitalized.

OCWA is the largest operator of water and waste water systems in Ontario. Chief Executive Officer Paul Scott said in the letter to council that the first line of defense against the potential contamination of any water treatment system is sound design of the system itself. "In the case of OCWA operated facilities, this is then backed up by strict operational controls that include disinfection, monitoring of disinfection levels and sampling programs that meet or exceed the Ontario Drinking Water Objectives and

WORKING TOGETHER: The Trails and Tours Network kiosk construction is a co-operative effort. Local contractor Peter Jennings, second from right, helps HHSS students assemble rafters for one of three kiosks that will soon be placed at key locations in the county.

Information kiosks will help travellers find county attractions

Information kiosks promoting attractions and services in Haliburton County will soon be seen in key locations. The "Gateway Kiosks" are a millennium project of the Trails and Tours Network.

The primary function of the kiosks will be to convey information specifically oriented to wayfinding via seasonally appropriate maps and to provide the Trails and Tour users with a comprehensive overview of the Haliburton County Trails and Tours network.

The organizers of the project have taken a unique approach. For example, each kiosk will be oriented to compass points to provide instant recognition of directions.

The main frames will be post and beam construction. Other components of the kiosks are being built as a joint effort, including local contractors, who donated their time and expertise, and students from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, who provided labour for various sections. The prefabrication is being done at the high school.

The Network will be asking the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce for its co-operation by providing signs that will direct the motorist public to the kiosks.

The network is taking a unique approach to how the information is conveyed. Pictographs will be used on the kiosks. Each of the four-foot by six-foot pictograph panels will represent some of the trail-specific activities, such as snowmobiling, biking, canoeing, horseback riding and others. The pictographs will be combined with trail-specific sponsor information. Revenue generated by this sponsorship will help with the network's objective of making the kiosks self sustaining. It will also promote available products for trail users.

One of the panels on each of the kiosks will be dedicated to trails-specific artwork, with the goal of encouraging interest in the area's natural environment.

The kiosks will provide the opportunity for Chamber of Commerce or Trails and Tours representatives to be in attendance at the sites at key times such as long weekends through the spring, summer and fall seasons. They will offer marketing, communication and information-providing outlets at key gateway points in the county.

Three sites will be set up this year, with the possibility of more sites in the future. The three sites favoured for this year are Lutterworth Township near the Victoria County boundary, Carnarvon, near the intersection of Highways 35 and 118 and Kinmount, near the old Ministry of Transportation facility on County Road 121.

TEMPORARY MOVE: Detective Sergeant Kelly Anderson of the Haliburton Highlands OPP Crime Unit loads computer equipment into a truck in preparation for a temporary move to Coboconk. The unit's paper records are being relocated as well, to ensure the mould that has forced a temporary move from the Minden building will not affect those documents. Anderson, who heads the Crime Unit, said the four-person team remains positive, hoping to move back to Minden soon. Part of the reason for the move is because of the uncertainty surrounding the repairs to the office. The Crime Unit's office was the area most affected by the mould, which caused air quality concerns.

Tourism Minister shells out the money

Initial $150,000 to help towards boosting tourism capacity in the Haliburton Highlands

by Matthew Sitrler

A cheque for $150,000 to help build tourism capacity in the Haliburton Highlands was handed over to the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce in Minden Tuesday, May 23. Tourism Minister Cam Jackson and MPP for Haliburton-Victoria-Brock Chris Hodgson delivered the money to the Chamber's Minden office.

The welcome announcement came during Ontario's Tourism Week 2000. "I have a pretty exciting announcement," said Jackson. "Not only important for our ministry, but extremely important for your community." Addressing the audience, Minister Jackson said tourism was one of the fastest growing industries in the world. He explained how specifically Ontario's tourism has become a huge economic driver.

"In some communities like this one, tourism has become the number one industry," said Jackson. "We've needed the government to recognise that and to do some critical things."

"My pleasant duty today as your Minister of Tourism is to present to the Chamber of Commerce a unique project. We've had partnerships before, but we recognise that the new partnerships that are emerging are not just destination marketing organisations, but economic development organisations. Increasingly we are seeing communities that are bringing together economic development tourism-marketing destination groups, and Chambers of Commerce, that's why this is such an important announcement."

Jackson said that Haliburton is leading the way by showing how, through partnering and understanding economic drivers, the community will help to promote new

And how do you do?

A conversation with Cam Jackson

by Matthew Sitrler

WHAT IMPRESSED YOU MOST ABOUT THE HALIBURTON PROPOSAL?

We know that Algonquin Park is one of the great icons in our province. The Europeans and the Asians are discovering it. We also know that to get to Algonquin Park, there are several ways of doing it, and coming through this region is the most beautiful and picturesque way of getting there. So Minden and Haliburton have a lot to offer.

The proposal, at the outset, will help with direct marketing and participation with some of our projects in Europe. It will allow proper signage, and organizations here to do familiarization tours. This is where travel writers from around the world say "Well where should we go Cam?" and I'd say "Well I'd like you to go through Haliburton and do some fishing there before you go into the wilderness experience at Algonquin." These are the kinds of options and activities that this seed money will assist. Over the next two years, we know that this will move significant numbers in terms of tourism. That will mean more jobs and strengthen the local economy, eliminating some of the unemployment in the shoulder seasons.

WHAT WILL BE THE IMMEDIATE IMPACT ON HALIBURTON OVER THE NEXT FIVE YEARS OTHER THAN AN INFLUX OF TOURISTS?

This isn't a modest amount of investment. As Minister Hodgson said, this is a partnership arrangement, so they have raised a quarter of a million as well, so that gives Haliburton a half a million dollars over the next two years, so you can do a lot of marketing, a lot of product development and a lot of signage work with that kind of money. Most communities put in proposals for forty or fifty thousand dollars and they want to take five years to do it. I very much respected how anxious this community was to get started and how focused they were on what they wanted to do, and how much support they had from their local members.

"Most communities put in proposals for forty or fifty thousand dollars,"

Tourism Minister,
Cam Jackson

Money Breakdown: Chamber allocates the funds

by Matthew Sitrler

Over the next two years, the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce will be distributing the combined amount of money allocated by the partnership between Province and County among specific projects to help build tourism capacity.

Presently, it breaks down like this:

- Image Branding efforts will receive $10,000
- Web-Site Development $65,000
- Familiarization

Tours $12,000,

- Stakeholder Education $8,000
- Product Development Events $80,000,
- Promotion Literature $15,000,
- Destination Guide $10,000,
- Display Booth and Graphics $20,000,
- Market and CTC Partnership $20,000
- Response Packaging will receive $10,000.

"The amounts are being used to promote the County as a whole, not individual businesses,"

Elva Bates resigns

Glamorgan Reeve Elva V. Bates is stepping down from her elected position. Glamorgan Township Clerk Glen Madill said Friday, following an emergency meeting, that Chuck Viner will take over the position until a special council meeting expected to take place June 13.

"I have prayed for guidance and have been given it," said Bates in a letter to her constituents. "I have discussed my plan with each of my children and they wholeheartedly support me."

At the proposed meeting on June 13, the Reeve's position will be officially declared open. It is expected that Viner will assume the position at this time.

the facility's Certificates of Approval," he said. "The purpose of such sampling is to confirm that the disinfection process continues to be effective."

Scott pointed out that the final line of defense is insuring the safety and reliability of such systems is a comprehensive contingency plan that is activated in the event of any report of contamination or suspected contamination of a water supply. "An important element of this plan is a communications protocol that ensures the Medical Officer of Health is immediately notified if a pathogen is detected in any water sample," Scott said.

AH&M Reeve Jeanne Anthon emphasized that emergency plans are in place at both the municipal and county levels.

Council asked Public Works Superintendent Clayton Cameron for a review of the emergency plan. He had already begun the review in anticipation of concerns after news of the Walkerton problem was publicized.

"We are very proud of our system," Anthon said. "The well is less than 10 years old."

She added that the municipality has built up "a healthy reserve fund" to deal with any problems with the water system that might arise.

Anthon noted that there has been an unusual demand at the municipal office for water sample bottles.

Clayton Cameron told council that it is very seldom that there is any sign of contaminants in the raw water supply. "But it is always tested to make sure." "The chlorine level is tested every day and bacteriological tests are conducted every week and samples are sent to a lab."

Cameron pointed out that spare pumps and parts are on hand and the system has an alarm if anything goes wrong.

Taken for granted

Unfortunately we have become so accustomed to its ready availability that it is often taken for granted. However, as we have learned this past week, a ready supply of reliable, potable water does not come with an iron clad guarantee, not even in this country. Whether water is drawn from a community system, individual wells or from a passing water course, each of us has likely had pause to think as we reached for a glass and turned on the tap.

Short of clean air, there is nothing more essential to our survival than water. It not only sustains our bodies, which are 85% water, it is vital for the growth of the plants, animals and fish we eat. And yet, we treat this essential life force with reckless disdain, using it as a place to dump our waste, exploiting its resources with little regard for future generations and proceeding on the shaky assumption that fresh water will always, somehow, be readily available.

The tragedy of Walkerton should serve as a wake-up alarm for everyone. For those who suggest this is an isolated incident, a once in a hundred year happening, we suggest they examine what is happening elsewhere in the world. Scientists predict that water will, in the not too distant future, replace oil as the liquid currency of the world. Today millions suffer from a lack of water, not just clean water, which we assume as a birthright, but any form of water to help sustain life. Rivers and oceans continue to be the dumping ground in nations too poor or uncaring to find proper solutions.

We cannot continue to simply assume that clean water is a birthright that will always be a turn of a tap away. Individuals, groups and nations must work to protect the purity of this vital resource. We must protect our own resources and then show others how to protect and rehabilitate theirs. The world must insist, as it should for clean air as well, that any degradation of these shared resources not be allowed and that remedial action be required of anyone who dares to rob humanity of this resource.

As we have seen in Walkerton, the consequences are too great for us to simply assume tomorrow will look after itself. The time to start protecting our water is today.

Where is the justification for water meters?

The following letter is addressed to
Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve
Jeanne Anthon:

Dear Mrs. Anthon:

I am writing to express my extreme concern regarding the installation of water meters by commercial users within the Village of Minden.

I understand that the recent shocking leap in my taxes was due to the change in Provincial legislation; however, this knowledge doesn't help when faced with actually issuing the cheque for funds that I've earned working seven days in a week. This issue was compounded by Municipal Staff being unable to explain this to my satisfaction. I have been in business within the Village of Minden for eight and a half years and my taxes have doubled - without notice - $1,000.00 from 1997 to 1998. What incentive does our municipal council extend to their own ratepayers, to attempt to, not only establish their own business, but, actually employ other people?

Shouldn't all businesses, operating as such, be zoned and billed correctly? You have to appreciate the difference between residential and commercial zoning/operations and what this means to the final tax billing. Particularly when just about everyone "knows" about home-based operations that are over-looked. Will they also be subject to a water meter?

The issue of installing water meters, without any public input is insulting to

The mysteries of business

Editor:

Re: Arthur Black's column, Untangling the mysteries of business, "Bureaucracy is the art of making the possible impossible." Anon.

I picked this up at a class I took at the Boeing Company. This quote was attributed to Javier Pascual Salcedo.

Dan Wilson,
frogfam@aa.net

say the least:

- was there a public meeting advertised and I missed the notice?
- are all commercial businesses being metered as such - or just the those which are honest about it?
- did we not pay outright for the installation of the new well in the early 90's? If so, why is there concern now about capital cost recovery?
- since the water system was originally installed, the general ratepayers at large have been subsidizing the water tap at the Fire Hall. Will there be a meter installed at this tap and who, precisely, will pay for this service?
- The ownership and operation of the Pritchard House has come up in discussion on numerous occasions. Will this unit also be metered? Who is actually paying for the capital expenditures, ie: roofing, flooring, and renovations?

I realize that this letter covers far more than the water meter installation issue; however, I remind Council that, if it weren't for the businesses - in Minden - supporting Minden - there would be no Village.

Thanks for your perceived support.

Reeve Elva Bates letter of resignation

To the Ratepayers of Glamorgan Township:

Greetings:

This is my notice to you that I have submitted my resignation as Reeve of Glamorgan Township, effective May 31, 2000. This decision has not been made lightly. I have discussed my plan with each of my children and they wholeheartedly support me.

I have served the Township, first as Clerk treasurer, March 1967 to December 1993, then as Reeve since December 1994 to the present. I have served to the best of my ability in both offices and I have been involved in the many improvements which have taken place throughout the Township over the years.

It has also been a pleasure to work with other staff members over the years and to see some of them move on to positions of more responsibility in larger jurisdictions.

I have recommended that Council appoint Chuck Viner for the remainder of this term, and he is willing to accept such an appointment. He will, of course, also become a County Councillor.

We are also starting the process to amalgamate four Townships into one.

Again, Chuck is picking up the duties that I assumed on the Transition Board Committees. I appreciate his understanding of my decision and I ask that you give him the support and appreciation that you have shown me.

God bless you, one and all.

Elva V. Bates,
Gooderham.

Thanks for the track meet

Editor:

Our family would like to thank the many volunteers who made the Track and Field Day Saturday, May 27 a great success. The event was well organized.

Thanks to the Legion members for their time. Many hours of preparation before the event must have been spent organizing.

It was also nice to see all of the teachers and administrators who were out to voluntarily attend the event. Imagine ... they weren't even legislated to be there but attended anyway! Thanks also to them for the time spent after school training the students.

Winners and losers

Not long ago a Quebec woman wrote a book about becoming a multi-millionaire.

She was qualified - she picked the winning ticket in a provincial lottery and scooped up several million greenbacks. She reckons it was just about the worst thing that ever happened to her.

Before the win, she was an average, middle-class Quebecoise - she had a decent home, a husband, a job and lots of friends.

She has none of those now. She quit her job of course - isn't that what all nouveau millionaires do, first thing? Next, she sold her dinky little house and bought a sprawling mansion more befitting to her millionaire status.

Then the calls started coming in. Not just from relatives and neighbours - from folks she'd barely met and often hadn't seen in decades.

They all loved her dearly, of course. Had always admired her and delighted in her good fortune - and wondered if she could see her way clear to sharing a paltry few thousand from her huge winnings. She was besieged by hundreds of supplicants, all of whom adored her no end. Until she turned them down, and immediately became Madame Rich Bitch - too good for her former peers.

But she had other problems by now. The new money had caused her husband to blossom into a Wall Street junkie. He appropriated huge chunks of the lottery money and shoveled it into the stock market. He lost it all, and burned up what was left of the marriage in the process.

Swiftly, weasel ratbag lawyers sank their hollow fangs into the estate siphoning off what was left of her windfall. She lost the mansion and now lives in a tiny walkup, hoping that her book sells enough copies to pay the rent.

Her one piece of advice to any lottery winner? Leave home immediately for at least one year - no forwarding address.

Winning the lottery can swiftly turn into a curse.

A factory worker in Gateshead, England recently won more than $10 million in a lottery. He was very generous with his new-found loot. He bought seven grand houses on the same street in Gateshead and gave them all to family members so that they could all live next to one another. That was two years ago. All those houses are for sale now. The lottery winner and his family have moved to New Zealand. Why? Perhaps it was a result of that brand new Honda Accord being firebombed in his sister's driveway. More likely it was a decision reached after persons unknown poured gasoline all over the porch of his brand new house and tried to set it alight. Who would do that - and why? Who knows? A neighbour says: "The attacks on the family are disgraceful. They are perfectly nice people. Someone must be jealous of their wealth."

I feel for them both - the English and the Quebec lottery winner. But to tell the truth, I also feel the teensiest bit smug. I know that I will never be in their shoes because I will never win a lottery. I don't buy lottery tickets. One of the few truths I know about myself is that I definitely lack the character to be an instant millionaire.

Call me unimaginative, but I actually need the pressure of mortgage payments, hydro bills and the hulking shadow of an insatiable Revenue Canada to keep me on the straight and narrow. Put a cheque for a million bucks in my hand and it would take about three nanoseconds to turn me into an instant libertine. Three thousand dollar hand-tailored suits. A stretch limo - three stretch limos - in the driveway. Oh yeah. I'd be phoning up Harrods for takeout fried hummingbird tongues with one hand and urinating on my boss's desk with the other.

And of course I'd blow it all. And cheese off all my buddies and loved ones into the bargain. I'm not strong enough to survive a lottery win. Not like Gerald Swan.

Mister Swan, of Orton, Ontario, recently won the Heart and Stroke Foundation jackpot - one million bucks. His plans for the money? He's going to give it away. All of it.

"I'm quite comfortable the way I am," he says. "I don't need it. I bought the ticket because it's a good cause. God gave me this gift; I should give it back." And he has.

Gerald Swan has handed over the money to the Heart and Stroke Foundation, the Canadian Cancer Society and a camp for children with kidney disease. Gerald Swan - a class act. He may not die with a lot of money in the bank, but I'm betting he dies with a smile on his face.

products and a greater awareness. "Your proposal was very well put together," said Jackson. "I know this is going to net you results, not just in signing issues but also by bringing more and more people into this region." The display cheque was for $250,000. The real cheque, described by Jackson as a "first-year instalment" was for $150,000.

Hodgson and Jackson were joined at the cheque presentation by President of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, Dennis Casey.

"We are certainly very grateful. It will help us do so many things that we are so far behind on. It will finally allow us to get into the markets with proper funding and do a good job," said Casey speaking to Jackson. "The money you have given us is partnership money, and the money you have given us today is matched by other money as well, which will also help."

Describing the money as a "catalyst" and a "beginning", MPP Chris Hodgson said that "by giving dollars as an incentive, we form a bigger, and better partnership for Haliburton County."

Reeve confident Canadian Tire development is proceeding

Minden Reeve Jean Anthon has not heard anything to indicate that a Canadian Tire chain of stores is not considering locating in Minden.

"It is my understanding that Minden is 'on the Canadian Tire map'" the Reeve said responding to an article which appeared in The Echo last week. "I have no reason not to believe it is going ahead as announced," she said.

The municipality recently signed an agreement to sell the business park at the corner of Prince Street and Highway 35. The developer told the council, the land will be used for a 28,000 square foot Canadian Tire store.

The reeve said that contact has been made with MPP Chris Hodgson to ensure that the Highway 35 improvements would be done in time for the development and that the highway work would not interfere with the development. "Chris has assured me that the highway work will be going ahead as soon as possible."

Anthon said the municipal planning department is moving ahead with the developer of the property and she had no reason to believe the development would not take place.

Breakdown

said Director of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, Peter Rigby. "Remember, it is partnership money. If the partners are not there, the money's not there."

It is a foregone conclusion, says Rigby, that any positive effects on local business will come from within the framework of the overall picture, benefiting from the Chamber's tourism-capacity building that the money now allows.

The one area the County does not receive support for in the $250,000 amount is signage. Since the Tourism Operation Destination Signage (TODS) program is a Provincial program, there is a hesitancy to supply funding where there already is some.

Driver treated and released

Police investigated a single vehicle collision which occurred on Elephant Lake Road in Monmouth Township. The incident, May 20, involved driver Cesar Da-Silva age 50 years old, of Mississauga, who was north-bound on his 1985 Honda G12 when he lost control of the vehicle and entered a ditch. Da-Silva was transported by ambulance to Bancroft Hospital, where he was treated and released.

Arson suspected

Items were found at the scene of a fire at the Camp Inn Trailer Park that indicate the cause as arson. The fire occurred sometime around 5:30 a.m. on May 22. Gasoline-soaked gravel, close to the building, was discovered by police.

Cassie Kulas earns a place on Provincial field Hockey team

by Jerry Grozelle

Cassie Kulas picked up a field hockey stick for the first time last fall to play on the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Junior Red Hawks team. The Red Hawks had an outstanding season, winning the league's top honours, the Kawartha Championship. Kulas' role on the team was on defense.

The 14 year-old Grade 9 student participated in a field hockey clinic at Trent Univer-

10 HHSS athletes advance to OFSAA

by Walter Tose

HHSS athletes posted some outstanding results at the East Regional Track and Field Meet, held Thursday, May 25 at Queen's University in Kingston.

Thirty-three athletes from HHSS travelled to Kingston to compete in the East Regional qualifying meet for the All Ontario Championships in Windsor this week. Ten of those competitors advanced to the OFSAA championships, including the Girls Senior 4X100 Relay team of Amy Brandon, Meghan Kennedy, Jordana Bain and Kate Campbell, who had a very strong performance.

Several competitors had an outstanding day, with personal best performances by Kate Campbell, Shane Campbell, Nicole Cooper, Shona Malloy, Matt Reid and Caley Sisson. Individual athletes advancing to OFSAA are:

Jordana Bain, with a fourth place finish in the 400m hurdles, with a time of 1:10.84.

Travis Bain was third in the 100m hurdles (15.30).

Kate Campbell was first in the 400m hurdles, with a personal best time of 1:05.67.

sity in Peterborough. Instructors were impressed with the first-year player. Her skills and natural talent prompted the clinic officials to suggest Kulas try out for the Provincial Field Hockey team.

A series of tryouts saw a field of 60 hopefuls whittled down to less than 20. Cassie Kulas was the youngest player to survive the cuts for the Provincial B team for girls aged 18 and under.

The session at Lamport Stadium in Toronto on the weekend of May 20 and 21 was the acid test for the girls. After the usual practice routine, they were required to run around the track for a full half hour. Kulas passed the endurance test without a hitch.

Although she played left defense with the Red Hawks, Kulas isn't sure what position she'll play. "They are switching us around to see where they like us best," she said. "It's on turf, too, so it's a lot different than playing on grass."

Practices include a two-hour session on Saturday mornings, another two hours in the afternoon and two hours on Sundays. But the team practices are not Kulas' only training. Evenings when she doesn't have any other commitments, she jogs three to five miles. When she can talk her 10 year-old younger brother Billy into it, he dons his goalie equipment and she takes shots on him to hone her shooting skills. Kulas also plays high school soccer (on defense) and she is a Highland dancer.

The Provincial B team will play in its first tournament this coming weekend, with games Friday, Saturday and Sunday, in preparation for the four-day Canadian Championship tournament, which will be held in Prince Edward Island in mid-July. This weekend's tournament will take place at Lamport Stadium.

Cassie is the daughter of Bill and Ginger Kulas of Minden. Brothers Nick and Billy both play hockey and Nick is an accomplished badminton player as well.

PROVINCIAL COMPETITOR: Cassie Kulas of Minden chosen to play on the Provincial Field Hockey B Team. At 14, she is the youngest member of the 2000 team.

Province invests $60,000 more in Drag River Rehabilitation Project

The Drag River Rehabilitation Project received $60,000 from the Ministry of Natural Resources at a special ceremony Friday afternoon. The presentation was made by former Environment Minister Tony Clement, who is now Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing. He was accompanied by Haliburton-Victoria-Brock MPP Chris Hodgson.

HHSS science teacher Dave Mowat introduced three key students who have been involved with the project since its inception three years ago.

Jennifer Ferguson is a co-op student with Easterling Technologies Corporation. "She helped facilitate the whole process of oil extraction," Mowat said.

Amy Brandon is the president of the student council at HHSS. "She is also our community liaison for the Drag River Project and she can swing a wicked shovel and move a lot of dirt," Mowat said.

Kim Varty is the student trustee for the Trillium Lakelands School Board. "She was one of the original group that came to council to get permission to change the very nature of how this river would look," Mowat told the group, which included, among others, Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey, deputy-reeve Bill Davis and Snowdon reeve Ross Rigney.

Mowat also introduced project co-ordinator Dan Selbie, who is a former HHSS student and graduate of Queen's University. "We're very lucky to get him," Mowat said. "He's our official site supervisor, contractor. He's the man in charge."

"This whole project is about partnership," said Clement. "It shows what can be done, when individuals like Chris (Hodgson) and the province set their minds to do something differently and work with the local community and with local individuals."

PROTECT LOCAL STUDENTS

Did you know that proposed Bill 74 means:

- less time for assistance to individual students
- loss of local control over schools
- government control not subject to review
- mandatory unpaid volunteerism
- teachers on call 24 hrs/day, 7 days/week

A bill with such drastic implications should undergo public hearings before passage.

Future generations will benefit from better fishing

"You can't just rely on somebody in Toronto or Ottawa to make decisions," Clements said. "It has to be locally driven, with local solutions and local sensibilities."

Clement said that by bringing today's civic leaders together with the youth, who will be the leaders of the future, it gives the project a life of its own. "It takes on new meaning, it's more successful and it's certainly something the community can be proud of. For all of those reasons, I think the Drag River Project shows a high degree of success and I know it's something Chris is very proud of; so proud he wanted me to see it first hand."

"This project is something we'll look back on and say it was worthwhile doing," Hodgson said. "It will benefit future generations with better fishing."

Hodgson said the project had some problems when it was found that oil from a storage tank had leached into the ground near the river and found its staff agreed and everything went well.

"I thought it was important when Tony was up in this area that I bring him here and show him this site so we could say thank you to him."

The money was provided from Ontario's Fish and Wildlife Protection and Enhancement Fund.

This is the third year the Drag River project has received funding from Ontario's Fish and Wildlife Protection and Enhancement Fund.

Over the past several years, the province, the Municipality of Dysart, staff and students at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, and others have worked hand-in-hand to rehabilitate the walleye spawning habitat in the Drag River.

Thalia's voice heard in poetry and song

Show raises money for Women's Emergency House

by Jennifer Minto, Student Intern

Women from throughout the county were again one with the arts as the Thalia's Voice Festival of the Arts 2000 took place on Saturday, May 20, at the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion. This dedication to Women and the Arts was created to raise money for the Haliburton Women's Emergency House and provide care for those in need of shelter. This year, co-ordinators Kim Harding and Sarah Levis built the festival around the talent that can be found all over Haliburton county, as well as bringing back the featured winners of last year's competition.

Serena Ryder, who was the vocal winner at the 1999 concert went on to Regionals, winning in that category as well. She has since had many accomplishments, such as recording a CD and being called to audition for the "Lilith Fair", (which was the basis of the creation of Thalia's Voice) making it into the final 25. Quite an accomplishment for someone who is only 17.

The spoken-word

poet, Kris Northey, has also published a poetry book and CD entitled "Dandelion" that was on sale at the festival this year and last. Last year she received a grant from the Canada Council for the Arts, and is currently developing multimedia poetry for her website: www.krishnorthey.com. She is also working on a CD, entitled "Exhibit", due out next fall.

The foyer was filled with eager ticket holders (around 100 people attended) as the artwork of local talent Andrea Hughes hung on the walls for them to view. The show began at 7 p.m. and the lights dimmed on the first performer. Ev Stata started writing her poetry the same year that she started receiving her old age pension. She read poems about a lifetime of experiences, recounted attending the high school musical production of Grease and about the Birds and the Bees. Ev still writes poetry as well as volunteering at the elementary school listening to grade two students read.

A play produced by the Gooderham Dance Program as well as a dance that was learned in approximately 3 days, was the next on the stage. Children ages 10 and 11 wrote the play and appeared in it, winning the appreciative response of the audience.

Next up was Taryn Clarke, a young aspiring writer. One of her poems is being published in "The Parting Year", an anthology of poetry being published by the poetry institute of Canada.

The Haliburton Dance Arts Students dazzled the

Hugh Thomas chosen CAO for Kawartha Lakes

At its regular weekly meeting, the Transition Board for the City of Kawartha Lakes announced its selection for interim Chief Administrative Officer (CAO) interim Board Secretary, and interim Communications Officer.

Hugh Thomas, from Chatham, Ontario will act as CAO. He will guide the Board through the task of merging 16 small municipalities and all their services into one cohesive unit. Mr. Thomas says he is "looking forward to the challenge and the opportunity" that the position brings. He will be taking up residence in Lindsay temporarily and hopes to have crowd as they danced to the song Angel of Mine by Brandy. The audience was in awe of the lithe talent, many thinking the dexterity demonstrated by the young dancers was something they could only recall from their early youth.

Before the two headliners, the Outloud Womyn's Voices Crew sang in Choir style. These women, who live for the gusto, share songs and fellowship as well as multi-generational collections. Mothers, daughters and grandmothers sing about justice, beauty, family and whatever else fancies their soul. All women are welcome to join.

The night ended with the words of Kris Northey and the sounds and soulful vocals of Serena Ryder. The audience was amazed at talent that these two women possessed and the fact that they have accomplished so much as young women. The poetic readings and vocals elicited a warm and enthusiastic response from the audience. Both performers are destined to have outstanding careers ahead of them.

Organizer expressed appreciation to all those who helped with this year's event and promised Thalia's Voice would be heard again.

his work complete in 6 to 8 weeks.

Judy Currins, formerly Clerk/Treasurer and Tax Collector of the village of Omeme has been seconded by the Transition Board and is now its interim Secretary. Judy has been with the village since 1984.

Patti Craig was appointed interim Communications Officer for the Board. She will be responsible for media relations and developing the Transition Board's official website. Mrs. Craig is the former Publisher of the North Kawartha Times and also has an extensive technology background.

Poetry in Motion

Spoken-word Poet Kris Northey, who has published a poetry book and CD entitled "Dandelion", performed at Thalia's Voice. The festival included singing, dance and poetry performances by females, of all ages.

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT NOTICE NOTICE OF STUDY COMMENCEMENT HIGHWAY 35 IMPROVEMENTS

THE STUDY

Morrison Hershfield Limited has been retained by the Ministry of Transportation to complete the Detail Design for Highway 35 from the Victoria/Haliburton County boundary, northerly for 8.1 kilometers to Miner's Bay (W.P. 358-97-00).

Various options are being considered to upgrade Highway 35 to increase capacity and safety. The Ministry is proposing to:

- Construct two new passing lanes and make improvements to existing passing lanes;
- Widen the shoulders;
- Improve roadside drainage;
- Resurface the highway;
- Correct areas of frost heave;
- Establish a full clear zone within the right-of-way by widening rock cuts and
- Construct left turn lanes at three locations into the Moore Lake Estates Road

THE PROCESS

This study will follow an approved planning process for Group "B" projects under the Class Environmental Assessment for Provincial Transportation facilities (1997) with the opportunity for public input throughout. A Public Information Centre will be held during the study and a notice advising of its time and location will be published in local papers. Upon completion of the study, a Transportation Environmental Study Report (TESR) will be available for public review and comment. Another notice will be published at that time.

THIS IS NOT A CONTEST:

However, we would like to tease you with this vista which is somewhere in the Haliburton Highlands. Over the next few weeks we will be providing additional clues that should help resolve the question. So we invite you to watch this space as we discover a new view of cottaging in the Highlands.

Three escape from burning car

Estimated value of the loss is $60 000.

Anyone with information regarding this incident is asked to call Victoria County OPP or Lindsay and Area Crime Stoppers.

Roll-over, fire

The driver of a 1994 Pontiac, eastbound on County Road One, lost control when the car slipped onto the shoulder of the road. After rolling several times it struck a rock cut and burst into flames. Driver Timothy Robinson age 23 and two passengers Chris Robinson 20, and Scott Bacon 24, all from Bolton, managed to escape from the vehicle as it burned. The incident occurred on May 20.

All three men were later located at a nearby residence from where they were taken to Haliburton Hospital. The driver Timothy Robinson of Bolton, was charged with careless driving.

Driver charged

Haliburton Highlands OPP investigated an incident on Horseshoe Lake Road One that involved a routine RIDE check. As a result driver Bradley Judd 29, of Grimsby has been charged with impaired operation of a motor vehicle. The incident occurred on May 21. He will appear in Minden Court July 5.

Break enter and thefts

Police investigated a break and enter at a cottage on Concession #1 in Dysart Township. The investigation on May 20 revealed the incident had occurred sometime during the last three weeks. Locks were cut off the sheds and the cottage door was pried open. Stolen from the location were a 1990 Mercury outboard motor and a 5 gallon gas can.

• The police investigation of a theft from a cottage shed on Shangri-La Road in Stanhope Township revealed a 1987 25 hp Mercury outboard motor was stolen. The incident occurred May 20. Marks on the dock indicated the suspect may have travelled by boat.

• The theft of a canoe from a cottage located on North Shore Road in Stanhope Township was investigated by police on May 22.

• Toronto Star and Globe and Mail newspaper boxes were stolen from Mountainview Road in Minden Township May 22.

• A break and enter at a hunt camp on County Road 121 in Sherborne Township was investigated by police. Sometime during the past two weeks, two electric motors and camping equipment were stolen.

Victoria County Council calls for new official plan

The following summary of the May 18 meeting of Victoria County Council was prepared by Warden John Macklem.

County Council approved a recommendation to the Transition Board to proceed immediately with the development of a new Official Plan.

Business and Employment Still Growing

The Development Department recently released its Business & Employment Activity Report for the period of July 1, 1999 - December 31, 1999 which indicates continuing growth in Victoria County. For this time period there were 30 new businesses and 158 net new jobs created in Victoria County. Copies of this report are available from the Development Department.

Caseload down

The caseloads are continuing to drop from previous years. The economy and changes in legislation, as well as the new employment emphasis in Ontario

Works is the reason for the drop.

- The County's Innovative Proposal for the purchase of vans to assist clients to attend their Community Placements has been approved by the Ministry.
- Child Care Agreement with North Hastings Children's Services
- A new child care agreement with North Hastings Children's Services has been signed by the County to assist clients in Haliburton and Victoria County with child care subsidy if services are needed in the Bancroft area.

Capacity increase

The Village of Fenelon Falls has commenced construction on increasing the capacity of its sewage treatment plant from 1,000 cubic metres per day to 1,800 cubic metres per day. At the present time, the equivalent of 265 residential units are committed for development within the Village. County Council on the basis of the increased plant capacity has approved the release of the equivalent of 650 additional residential units for development within the Village of Fenelon Falls service area.

This increase will allow Fenelon Falls Council to permit new development proposals in and adjacent to the village to proceed on full municipal services. This should result in the construction of new residential, commercial, and industrial buildings in and around the Village.

Waste Management

County Council approved the Development Services Committee's recommendation to circulate the Draft Waste and Recycling Collection By-law to all local municipalities seeking comments for input into the By-Law.

• A "Grasscycling" brochure is currently at the printer and will be available to the public through municipal offices and county libraries. The literature will promote leaving grass clippings on the lawn rather than bagging and disposing of them.

• A "Waste Wise" County newsletter is being finalized and will focus on information regarding Re-

Inquiries at development office

For the reporting period March 16 to April 12, the Department responded to the following:

- 153 requests for "tourist information";
- 45 inquiries for information/advice from 29 existing or would-be businesses (11 businesses are located within the County and 18 business are located outside);

• 131 planning advisory inquiries. Approximately 87% of the consents and 75% of other development inquiries were from County residents.

Victoria Manor

Victoria Manor staff and residents have said their goodbyes to the Director of Resident Care, Arlene Chick. Arlene has retired after 26 years of leadership.

A new Manager of Nursing, Linda Bayly, has been hired. Linda comes with extensive experience as a Director of Nursing in Long Term Care Facilities in Ontario. She will provide both support to the Nursing Department and dedication to the field of institutional care for frail seniors Victoria Manor.

Saving the peregrine falcon

The provincial government, through the Ministry of Natural Resources, is asking the public to help count the number of peregrine falcons living in Ontario. It is part of the National Peregrine Falcon Survey, conducted every five years.

The peregrine is still on the endangered list in Ontario, but its population is recovering. The aim of this year's survey is to locate and monitor peregrine falcon nesting activity across the province. The peregrine's status will be reviewed when the survey is complete.

"The recovery of the peregrine falcon in Ontario is the result of many groups working together," said Natural Resources Minister John Snobelen. "We are again looking for strong support from those interested in Ontario's natural history to help us determine the status of Ontario's current peregrine population."

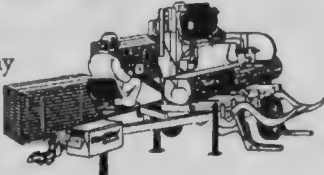

The peregrine falcon disappeared as a breeding bird in Ontario in the early 1960s as a result of DDT contamination. A continent-wide effort was undertaken to bring the species back from the brink of extinction, beginning with bans on the use of DDT and related chemicals.

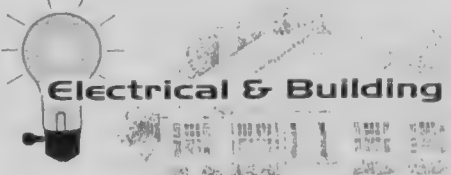

Techniques were developed to breed peregrines in captivity, and thousands of young falcons were released into the wild across North America. In Ontario alone, over 500 peregrines were put back into the wild between 1977 and 1996. Many volunteers, naturalist groups and corporations have been involved as partners in Ontario's peregrine falcon recovery program.

Peregrine nesting lasts until August. During this time, outdoor users are encouraged to report signs of peregrine nesting to the nearest MNR district office.

High school play has a serious message for ASES students

by Julie Snell, ASES Press Club Member

On May 23, 15 Grade 12 students voiced their opinion about drinking and driving.

This was done through a live performance. The play called, "Lights Out" was written by the cast members. The cast brought in the props, wrote the script as well as made all the background scenery.

The play was directed by their drama teacher, Mrs. Shaperia. The purpose of the play was to teach grade seven and eight students that tragedy could strike if you drink and drive.

The setting of the play was at a school year-end party. Nick, played by Ryan White, was drinking and decided to drive home. His girlfriend, Summer, played by Alexis MacNab, went chasing after him in her vehicle and was killed in a car accident. Throughout the play, Summer's friends and family members had to cope with this tragic death.

An excellent job was done by the actors and actresses on stage. They kept a straight face in the serious parts and did a great job reciting their lines. A very important lesson was learned in this play and should be considered by everyone, not just drivers. The lesson is: don't drink and drive.

Students enjoy trip to outdoor centre

by Tyson C. Farrell, ASES Press Club Member

At eight o'clock on a Thursday morning in May, Mr. Johnson's grade 6 class left for their trip to the Yearly Outdoor centre. Yearly is owned by the school board and is located twenty minutes north of Huntsville. The students enjoyed many activities such as canoeing, orienteering, and wetlands studies.

The classes stayed at Yearly for a total of two days and one night. On the first night, everyone went out for an evening walk at about 9 o'clock. During the walk, the class howled hoping for a wolf pack to respond but the wolves didn't feel like talking that night. Once the walk had ended, the grade six students sang around a campfire until 10 p.m. and then went to sleep in their dormitories.

The next day the students woke up to the smell of pancakes, sausages and muffins cooking in the kitchen. During the day the students continued their activities until late afternoon when they boarded the buses for the return trip to Minden.

Alex Philip said, "I had a great time at Yearly. It was an awesome experience." All the students enjoyed themselves at the Yearly Outdoor Centre and were sad when they had to leave.

Board stymied by ministry policy changes

Trustees of the Trillium Lakelands District School Board have approved a new district-wide policy that will establish guidelines for choosing and challenging learning materials to be used in the classroom. The policy, which will cover everything from textbooks to videos was adopted at the Tuesday, May 23 board meeting.

The new policy sets out the board's belief that students have a right to use a wide range of age-appropriate resources and to explore material expressing a wide-range of opinions. The supplementary procedure lays out guidelines for principals in choosing both textbooks and other types of learning resources, as well as the process for parents or guardians who wish to challenge the use of learning material for their individual children.

The new policy replaces existing policies in the former Victoria, Muskoka and Haliburton boards of education.

Compliance issues

The Ministry of Education will not tolerate boards which don't comply with its new rules on teacher testing, instructional time for secondary teachers and mandatory co-instructional duties, said director of education Evelyn Brown in a presentation to trustees at Tuesday night's board meeting. "The word 'compliance' comes up over and over again in the ministry material," said Brown.

She noted that under the proposed legislation, which is expected to pass by the summer, both trustees and administrators face severe penalties for not following the new rules to the letter. The Education Accountability Act gives the Minister of Education extensive powers to ensure the new rules are observed, including requiring boards to submit a plan outlining how they intend to comply if a problem arises.

The minister also has the right to appoint an investigator to follow up on complaints made by a school council or a group of citizens. If the board in question is directed to comply but does not, both trustees and administrators may be fined or dismissed from office. The proposed legislation also gives the minister the power to take over a non-compliant board and make any changes he or she deems necessary.

"There's no question that these changes erode our role as trustees," says Judy Saunders, chair of the board. "We were elected to be accountable to the community, but our ability to do that is being undermined by the legislation's increased focus on the powers of the minister."

Budget delay

The process of developing the board's budget for 2000-2001 is on hold while staff assess the impact of recent announcements by the Ministry of Education. Those announcements include increased funding for transportation, special education, reading skills and reduced class sizes.

"We're pleased the ministry has acknowledged that additional money is needed," says Judy Saunders, chair of the board, "but since these announcements affect almost every area of spending, we won't be able to approve our budget by the end of May, as we'd hoped." Trustees have reviewed the budget and discussed it in detail at meetings on April 28, May 2 and May 9.

The Ministry of Education released its revised grant regulations on May 23, but has not yet spelled out how it expects boards to allocate the new money. "Without that information, we can't do our revised calculations," says Ed Hodgins, the board's superintendent of business. "For instance, we know there's $70-million for special education, but that figure covers the entire province. We need to know what the ministry's requirements are for spending that money before we'll know how next year's budget is affected."

Frost Centre seminar for instructors

Learning about the fishes

The Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre, south of Dorset on Highway #35 is hosting a Wild Education Fish Ways workshop on June 9. This one day introductory workshop is designed to increase the knowledge of all educators in regard to responsible actions for the conservation of fish and their aquatic ecosystems.

The workshop is open to anyone and would be of particular interest to individuals who work as educators of the public. Through enjoyable and entertaining activities, individuals will receive hands-on instruction in how to teach proper aquatic ecosystem management. Many such activities complement the Ontario curriculum and a complete resource manual, with all activities, is given to each participant. The day will be filled with fun.

For more information or to register, interested individuals should contact Barbara Kerr at (613) 599-9594 or 1-800-563-9453 or email her at barbk@cwf-fof.org. Both the Canadian Wildlife Federation and the Ministry of Natural Resources are sponsoring this unique Fish Ways workshop opportunity.

Golfers host weekly tea

Hi again, another week gone by and the month of May has almost left us.

We promised we'd tell you about last week's tea party. The Haliburton Women's Golf League brought all kinds of delicious goodies. One of our Roving Reporters says "that if they play golf anything like they bake, they are darn good golfers."

On Friday a busload went to the Minden Legion for lunch. Of course we were treated royally, and always enjoy the great food.

Alice Rivers had a very special day on Sunday as she celebrated her 80th birthday. Her family hosted an open house in the lower activity room and there were all kinds of relatives, friends and residents who attended. Alice is still beaming.

Monday evening the die-hard card players gathered for a game. We hear Edith Russell cleaned up.

Rev. Everall held communion on Tuesday morning and Marylene Welch along with Barbara Trocewicz held prayer service with their group of Prayer friends.

Dottie and Brenda and their crafty folks are busy making Father's Day decorations. The fellows are working on some garden pokes. Wednesday morning was business as usual. We welcomed Nancy back from her holidays. One of the Rovers, and we won't mention who, says "she's looking beautiful as ever." There was a Keep Fit program on both floors in the morning and the folks on the lower floor enjoyed a short journey up the Horseshoe Lake Road, and then a stop for Twistee Treat ice cream. Yummy!

The Hillbillies were here Wednesday night for Pub Night. There was a good turnout as usual, everyone enjoyed the foot stomping music.

This afternoon, the Minden Horticultural Society will be serving the tea in the lower dining room. We will be celebrating birthdays for those born in May. Ruth and Jack will also be here for an entertaining sing-song in the upper dining room.

Last week Nellie Ranson was in Ross Memorial for a couple of days, but she's back -home with us and we're glad about that!

Gord Kent is in hospital, we all wish him well and hope he will be back home real soon.

Just before we were to close today, we had an unexpected visitor. Gypsy a beautiful golden retriever with her owner Elaine Davidson came to sign up as a volunteer. We're looking forward to her visits.

Until next week, cheerio.

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4450; email <mindenhouse@on.aibn.com>)

The change from winter to summer in our county town is more than a change in the weather. The influx of our summer residents and visitors creates an energy that we haven't felt since last Thanksgiving. In fact, we get a taste of it only on the first long weekend as it really doesn't start in earnest on a daily basis until children are out of school and families come up for their vacations. Then we work. We give our all. We are filled with all that energy. Then it will be time to grow into our slower pace over the winter, living our lives until it comes back again. Living in a tourist town has a different rhythm: we live to the beat of a different drummer!!

Phyllis Ackerblade phoned to say her mother's name had been misspelled in last week's article about William Stevens, her grandfather. The correct spelling is 'Eliness'. Sorry for the mistake. The name is so unique. There must be a story in that too!!

The Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton is up and running for the season. They have just finished a show of paintings, sculptures and handcrafts by members of the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts. Until June 3, you can see a show of art by students in the five schools in the Trillium - Lakelands Board. Two pieces from students of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School are represented!! A great way to encourage our youth!! Also the opening last Saturday of a show of the work of Paul Portelli who has taught papier mache at the Fine Art School and has new works of clay in this show. Everyone is invited to see these shows and all the others they will produce during the summer.

Wishing you a good week in whatever way that means to you.

SCORING NEWS

Thursday, May 11: Euchre at the Minden Legion: Margaret Fletcher, Milt Fletcher, Verna McDonald and John Mallon were the winners. Roy McDonald and Ann Baker won the lone hands. Maxine Cross, Verna McDonald, Marg McAfee and Margaret Fletcher won the other prizes.

Thursday, May 18: Again, Euchre at the Minden Legion, one week later: The highs were Norm Lee and Marg McAfee and the second highs were Tom Orr and Pat Roussel. Lone hands were taken by Mary Wilson and Marie Dennie. Rhoda Woolner, Iris Taylor, Helen Skelding and Norm Lee won the other prizes.

Friday, May 19: Duplicate Bridge at Echo Hills: Very close scores for the afternoon which is a sign of good playing!! A tie for first, with 56% going to the partners Vange Croucher with Stella McMillan and Wynne with Morris Hansen; second with 55% were Norma Crewson with Vic Mathews; third with 54% were Muriel McIntosh with Ross Fletcher.

Monday, May 22: Bid Euchre played at the Kinmount Legion: Sandy Robinson was first and Ida Young second. Ida Young also won a moonshot along with Joan Taylor. Kit Schroter won the draw.

The Friendship Club, playing Euchre in the afternoon at St. Paul's: Elva Paisley won lone hands. Don Hicks was high man and Fern Donnelly was high woman. Ellen Holden found the hidden score. Marie Dennie and Katie Parker were the lows. Kevin Maloney won the 50/50 draw.

Euchre, at Club 35, in the evening: Tom Orr won the 50/50 draw and Cliff Woolner won lone hands. Verna Sawyer and Harold Smith took the high scores and Loretta Lamb and Josie Cheeseman took the lows. Verna Sawyer went away with the baloney. Cub 35 has announced that Bid Euchre, played on Friday evenings, begins the summer season on Friday, June 2 at 7:00 p.m.

Cribbage at the Minden Legion in the evening. Vicki Campagnolo and Ed Hisson were the winners. Frank Campagnolo, Vivian Anderson and Vicki Campagnolo won the draws.

Tuesday, May 23: Senior Bid Euchre at the Minden Legion. The top scores went to Milton Fletcher, Esther Lee, Ida Young and Norm Lee and Marg McAfee tied for fourth. Gala Stamp found the hidden score. Shirley Elcome and Margaret Fletcher won the moonshots.

Contract Bridge in the afternoon at Stanhope: Two small slams were bid and made by Frank Jones with Mrs. Jack Croucher and Gloria Moore with Frank Schlotter. The Special Award, the Y.W.O.T. (The Yellow Woes of Texas) went to Betty Dicker, and only she knows why?? In fourth place for the day was Wynne Hansen 5180; Frank Jones was third with 6080; Gloria Moore captured second with 6340; and Mrs. Jack Croucher topped the list with 6940!!!

This was the last night of Euchre in Gelert until September. Reta Crofts won lone hands. Dorothy McElwain and Mildred St. Thomas were high and low for the women and Don Curry and Harold Harvie did the same for the men. Orval Francis won the 50/50 draw--his first time ever at Gelert!! A fitting ending for the season!!

Wednesday, May 24: Duplicate Bridge at Parklane: In North/South, in first, with 59% were Joyce Burch and Norma Crewson. Muriel McIntosh and Ross Fletcher were second with 58%. In East/West, in first were Nick Lehoczy and Mike Collins with 68% and Vera Carnochan and Mayme Douglas in second with 66%.

Bid Euchre at Stanhope in the evening. Five moonshots were won by Milton Fletcher, Vicki Campagnolo, Rob Evans, Katie Parker and Murray MacKinnon. The top scores went to Bev and Jane Swick, tied with 243, Katie Parker with 257, Willi Cox with 264, Ken Wallace and Marg Cowen with 271 and Peter Farr, the highest with 276.
